North-Eastern Hill University was set up by an act of parliament in 1973. The objectives of the University, as laid down in the act, are “to disseminate and advance knowledge by providing instructional and research facilities in such branches of learning as it may deem fit; to pay special attention to the improvement of the social and economic conditions and welfare of the people of the hill areas of the north-eastern region, and in particular, the intellectual, academic and cultural advancement”.

This oldest central university of North-East has 46 departments covering arts, sciences, management, law and engineering disciplines. A large number of students qualify various competitive examinations like NET/GATE every year. Our faculty strength is over 300.

In a period of about 44 years, NEHU has matured into an institution with a serious academic and social and cultural agenda and a clear vision for its future growth.

The Department of Information Technology (IT) was started in the year of 2006, under the School of Technology, NEHU, funded by MHRD, Govt. of India, with a prime focus to impart quality, career-oriented engineering education in order to produce bright technologist from different parts of the country. The Department is currently offering four years B.Tech and two years M.Tech and Ph.D. programme in Information Technology. There are 12 highly qualified faculty members in the Department, who are carrying out state-of-art research works in the fields like Wireless Network, IoT, Data Mining, Image Processing, Soft-Computing, Computer & Network Security, etc. Several research projects are being implemented in the department. Currently the department has five well-equipped state-of-art computer laboratories. A number of students of the department are placed in various reputed Software and Telecommunication industries.
